Own A Piece Of The Schlock!

LETTERS AND TOMATOES DEPT.

DEPT. OF CORRECTIONS

MAD #313's "Evening Shame" spoof should be called "MAD's Editor's Shame." At the top of page 36, Diva says she's going "to pour over the want ads." Huh? What's she going to pour them over? Pancakes? That may be appropriate for MAD's Editors, but when the rest of us read something we "pore" over it. By the way, don't use my name with this letter. My daughter, KATIE SQUIRE would just die if either her name, KATIE SQUIRE, or mine ever appeared in MAD.

Pat Squire
Katie Squire's father
Simsbury, CT

Patsy—Your letter is very pore!—Ed.

MORON MAIL

I am typing this sentence with my nose (I really am, no lie). I am typing this sentence with another part of the anatomy but I won't tell you which.

Paul Alger
East Haven, CT

We know we can rule out your brain!—Ed.

Is Andrew J. Schwartzberg a great guy or what? He is my hero, my inspiration, my very reason for existing!

Amar Pai
Las Vegas, NV

Amar—MAD Editorial Assistant Andrew J. Schwartzberg is a great guy much in the same way Mike Tyson is a great blind date! By the by, we couldn't help but note you're from Las Vegas. Are you perchance the same Amar Pai who works as the bucket boy at Slegfried and Roy's midnight show at the Trop?—Ed.

ENVELOPE OF THE MONTH

This issue's Spy Vs. Spy-inspired envelope is a festival of minimalism... a cornucopia of simplicity... proof that less is more! It's the creation of Mike Moreau of Bellingham, WA, but hey, everything has a downside, right?

"JFK CONSPIRACY THEORIES"

There must be a billion subjects to ridicule or poke fun at. The assassination of John F. Kennedy does not lend itself to satire. "Other JFK Conspiracy Theories" Oliver Stone Left on the Cutting Room Floor" (MAD #314) was an ugly attempt at humor and was soiled with poor taste. With due respect to a magazine enjoyed by millions of us—please don't forget to respect us, too.

Bob Chadwick
Kapa'a, HI

After reading "JFK Conspiracy Theories" I have only one piece of advice for artist/writer Duck Edwing: Don't ride in any open-top convertibles!

Eric Rickman
West Covina, CA

We don't know why you're upset with our JFK movie spoof. Actually, the dashing Mr. Edwing is known for resembling our 35th President, and the two were often mistaken for one another. In fact, many have told us that on that day in Dallas, dozens of people along the motorcade route were heard exclaiming "Duck!"—Ed.

BEING BLUNT ABOUT INSTRUMENTS

I would like to know why you can't draw musical instruments right! In "The Outrageous Orchestral Offense" (MAD #313), the only instrument you drew right is the drum, which isn't that hard to draw! The tuba has more pipes and the valves are not in the lead pipe. The trombone slide should be on the side of the horn, not below it. Whatever that is supposed to be in the back is drawn like a guitar but is being played like a string bass.

The only drawings I like are the ones of women. I like the way you make their chests really big. Those are the best drawings in the magazine.

John Marmolejo
Rowland Heights, CA

John—You're going to have a real love/hate relationship with one of our upcoming articles—"What If Women of the D-Cup Played Chamber Music?"—Ed.

WRESTLING WITH A RIPOFF

You guys really got ripped off this time! I don't know if you know this already, but the World Wrestling Federation has introduced a wrestler named Irwin R. Schyster, or "IRS" for short. This guy immediately provoked memories of MAD #272's back cover featuring Harold, the Killer Accountant! It seems to me that the WWF is getting so desperate for new gimmick-wrestlers that they have sunk to stealing ideas from MAD!

Mike Baldounis
Danbury, CT

You haven't heard the worst of it! Rumor has it that at the next Royal Rumble, Vinco "Mr. Trillions" McMahon is unveiling another MAD-inspired grappler that will make even The Undertaker drop dead in revulsion—"KILLER KAPUTNIK"—Ed.

"KILLER KAPUTNIK"

Harold "The Killer Accountant" from MAD #272's "WWF Magazine" spoof and lookalike wrestler Irwin R. Schyster from the pages of WWF magazine. Fal

PARENTAL PROS AND CONS PART IV

A well-meaning relative sent a MAD subscription to our children, but I want it stopped! Your magazine is sick, sick, sick, immoral and a very, very bad example for kids (teens too!) Like I said, I don't want your filth coming to my home!

Jeanne Aldenderfer
South Bend, IN

I would like to direct this letter to all of the mothers out there who have cancelled their kid's subscriptions to MAD. All I want to say to them is CHILL OUT! You are depriving your children a chance to take in the best literature there is! You probably don't even give them important things like Nintendo or Cable!

And tell me this: If MAD is such a bad magazine, why has it been around since you were kids? Betcha you read it when you were young! This is the 90s. Kids have their right to read MAD!

Laura Dvornicky
Perry Hall, MD

It's time once again for us to ask that old, eternal question we first posed on the letters page of MAD #291...Which of these two lovely ladies would you like to be your mom?!—Ed.

MAD JACKPOTRZEBIE!

A BAD CASE OF THE NUNS DEPT.

Holy guacamole, another "cute nun" movie! For God's sake, give it a rest, already! The church has enough problems without having to deal with this kind of un-saintly representation! It's no wonder they wouldn't mind seeing this...

ARTIST: MORT DRUCKER

SISTER AXED

WRITER: STAN HART

Where are you taking me?

To Vince in Reno! He's gonna kill you!

Why not do it right here in California and get it over with?

Because Vince is a sentimental sap! He wants to bury you in his family plot in Nevada, next to his former girlfriend, Didi!

Besides, we need a big finish for what has become a very, very quiet movie!

Okay, guys! Now that you went through the trouble of bringing her back, kill her!

Before I die, I'd like a moment to ask God to forgive me for the bad things I've done!

God may forgive you, but I don't think the people who spent $7 for this lousy movie ever will!

Stop this! The church cannot stand by and watch you take an innocent life!

How about the life of a bad lounge singer?

Hmm, it's certainly something to think about, isn't it!

Now you don't have to be a nun anymore and be constricted by our vows!

Your timing is a little off! The only guy I slept with has just been shot dead!

This church is really attracting a kinky crowd! Don't look now, but there's a guy in the front row wearing a dress!

Schmuck! That's the Pope!

Like a bridge over Holy water...

Mother Inferior, this convent has proven to be a great place for our protection program! I wonder if you would take in someone who needs to be hidden because the public keeps mobbing that person, threatening life and limb!

Of course we will, Lieutenant! Who is it?

Sister Mary Michael Jordan!

THE CRETIINOUS COOK'S CONCOCTION

On New Year's Eve 1990 a new decade began...but nobody really noticed. People were still wearing the same clothes, had the same friends...even Dick Clark looked like he did in the 80's. (Heck, Dick Clark still looks like he did in the 50's!) But things have changed, it's just that the changes were very subtle. The keen eye of MAD has detected some of...

The Differ the 80's

In the 80's people spent their "disposable income" all over town.

In the 90's they tend to blow it all at once.

In the 80's radio personality Larry King made it big in television.

In the 80's congressmen were unable to balance the national budget.

In the 90's congressmen were unable to balance their own checkbooks!

In the 80's superstar athletes enlisted powerful, high-priced attorneys to handle their finances.

In the 80's baby boom Yuppies conducted "insider" deals for vast sums of money.

In the 90's baby boom Yuppies conduct "insider" deals for cigarettes.

In the 80's Donald Trump began the chapter by chapter account of his success story.

ences Between and the 90's

ARTIST AND WRITER: JOHN CALDWELL

There are thousands of greeting cards to choose from these days. The problem is that none of them deal with the fast-changing world of the 1990s. But not to worry! MAD now points the backwards, dim and dunderheaded card companies in the right direction as we present...

Greeting Cards

that keep up with the times

ARTIST: PAUL COKER

WRITER: FRANK JACOBS

You only make it with the best,
Shrewd bimbo that you are,
And that is why you always hitch
Your wagon to a star,
The dude must be a VIP
With power and ambition,
Just like the last one that you hooked—
A married politician,
But now he's left you high and dry
And dashed your dreams of glory,
Don't fret—you'll make a bundle when
The tabloids buy your story.

What a Guy!

Your company could not survive
Your latest business blunder,
And so, last month, you bellied up
And let your firm go under;
Despite the loss you must have felt,
Despite the stress and strain,
That bonus that you gave yourself
Will surely ease the pain;
You walked away a millionaire
And didn't lose a buck;
Your firm's investors got wiped out,
But, hey, that's their tough luck!

With Joy In Our Hearts

We never thought you'd land that job
Last week when you applied;
The dozen other applicants
Were much more qualified;
Your résumé's a sorry joke;
You lack the needed skills;
You turn off all who meet you
With a morning breath that kills;
You really stood no chance at all,
Except, you lucky slob,
The others failed their urine test—
Congrats! You got the job!

CONGRATULATIONS!

O college jock, you've made the grade
And earned your graduation;
You got through "Body Painting 3"
And "Rock Appreciation;"
You stuck it out despite those times
You found the going hard;
You'd know the pride we feel if you
Could only read this card.

A Personal Message

Your neighbor had a skin-peel—
Now she looks as if she's molting;
Another had a face-lift—
The results were quite revolting;
Your best friend had a fanny-tuck—
When sitting, she's lopsided;
Your cousin sued her doctor
When her implants subdivided;
So what if you're flat-chested
And your tummy's gone to put?
You've seen the shape these folks are in,
So keep the one you've got!

In Deepest Sympathy

You tried to hide it from your fans;
You feared for your career;
But now it's in the open, guy,
The word's out, far and near;
That gay rag blew your cover
With a front-page expose;
You're now a conversation piece
From New York to L.A.;
Yes, you've been outed, sad to say,
For all the world to see;
Remember that I'm still your friend,
So please, guy, don't out me!

Thinking Of You

While others struggle to survive,
You sail through ev'ry test;
You're "Mr. Lucky" to your friends;
You seem divinely blessed;
That is, until we heard today—
Oh, gee, oh, gosh, oh golly—
Your Mickey Mantle rookie card
Was chewed up by your collie.

We care about our planet. We care about our customers. We care about our image. So please answer the following questions to let us know what things you care about. Because this makes us look good. That means more business, and above all, we care about our profits!

- | | YES | NO |
|---|--------------------------|--------------------------|
| 1) When there is an environmental disaster, are we sufficiently adept at evading all blame and responsibility for cleaning up after ourselves? | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 2) Are we doing a good job of threatening your community's well-being by calling for more scientific studies of chemicals and waste products that have already been proven to be toxic? | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 3) When you write to us expressing your concern, do our bland form letters sound like we really care about what you think? | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 4) Are our expensive, manipulative media campaigns to make us look good sufficiently misleading? | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |

FROM YOUR TEACHER

It's been my pleasure to have you in my class this term. Please answer the following questions. Your answers will help my future students ... and might help you, if you get left back and I have the pleasure of having you in this exact same class next term!

|---|--------------------------|--------------------------|
| 1) Has there been enough homework to wreck your Christmas and Easter vacations, and send every weekend completely down the tubes? | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 2) Is the material presented in class sufficiently complicated to cover my butt, and so irrelevant that you'll never need it again in your life? | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 3) Are my lectures carefully formulated so that you're afraid to fall asleep in class, for fear I might say something that will actually show up on a test? | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 4) Has my grading system been sufficiently confusing, random and nitpicky so you can't win no matter how much you study? | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 5) Do my rambling digressions on totally unrelated topics appear to be spontaneous, so it looks like I've let you sidetrack me and the class is getting a free ride, on days when I just don't feel like working? | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |

A MAD LOOK

AT TATTOOS

ARTIST AND WRITER: SERGIO ARAGONES

American tourist, Dr. Joke Riot, stopped a band of radical terrorists from assassinating Lord Homely and his family today. Dr. Riot is recovering in building number six at St. Seizure Hospital. He is in room 10B on the eighth floor, but due to security reasons, we cannot divulge which of the two beds in that room he is occupying!

Dr. Riot, you attacked my client, who just happened to be another pedestrian hurrying to help Lord Homely!

Help him! I saw him put a bomb under Lord Homely's car!

We British are terribly civilized! Did it not occur to you that perhaps Lord Homely's door was stuck, and my client, Scorn Miller, was helping him blast it open?!

And why was your "client" wearing a ski mask?

Come, come! We all know how chilly it is in London! And as for my client carrying a machine gun—well, the streets aren't safe anywhere!

Although your case is well put, counselor, I'm afraid your client must go to jail! He did kill several people!

So? This is ridiculous! In America, you have to kill a dozen people before they even call you down for questioning!

You haven't seen the end of me, Joke Riot! You killed my baby brother! And I'll get revenge even if I have to follow you to the end of—of this movie!

It will cost 2000 pounds to repair your book! Two for the binding and 1,998 for the route of the terrorist prisoner, Scorn Miller, as you asked for on the note hidden in this book!

I don't know what you're talking about! I'm just browsing! I think you meant to give that info to the lady over there! She's the terrorist!

Set Scorn free! We've got the van surrounded! If you don't, we'll shoot the bridge toll taker!

Oh, no! We can't let them do that!

Why not? If they shoot the toll taker, we'll save a pound! We can cross the bridge for free!

Let me out, and I'll pay the toll!

All right, but don't run away, there's two more tolls before we get to the prison!

But the chances he'd come here are extremely slim—unless, of course, the airlines start another transatlantic price war!

Are you sure my family will be safe here?

Absolutely! Now I've got to get out of here! I don't want to be caught in the crossfire!

Now we know my personal secretary is a traitor! Look at these entries in his diary.
7:00 PM: Cocktails;
8:00 PM: Dinner;
9:00 PM: Assassinate Lord Homely!

Oh my God! All the lights went out!

Nuts! I made a mortgage payment and a fuel payment, but I forgot to pay something on the electric bill!

Drat, we're being fired upon by those terrorist scoundrels! I hope I remember proper etiquette when being shot! Let's see, if I'm shot in the chest, I lean back so as not to drip blood on the rug! If I'm shot in the back, I lean forward so I don't soil the seat cushions! Good show, I remembered!

The rules here in America are easier to remember! People don't care where you bleed, it's where you light up a cigarette that you have to worry about!

I'm amazed I was able to get out on this boat considering it was moored 100 feet from land, in pounding seas!

I'm amazed you were able to get out of your house alive! We were wearing the latest night vision goggles and wielding high-tech sub-machine guns and you fought us off using just a flashlight and a broom!

Consider yourselves lucky! You'd be dead now if I'd only found my mop!

For a quiet CIA agent, Joke, you sure like daring adventure!

You can just call me Indy!

You're driving right toward the rocks!

My wife wiped out the car, it's my turn to wipe out the boat! I just wish I'd remembered to pay our boat insurance bill!

Well, the terrorists have been rounded up and I just heard from the doctor about our new baby!

Is it going to be a boy or a girl?

Well... actually... the doctor said that it's neither!

Oh no! No! It's an Alien! Quick! Get me Admiral Jersey Bell at the C.I.A. on the phone! No—better yet—get me Sigourney Weaver! She's been in this situation before!

Oops! Wrong movie!

Recently, a new kind of quasi-legal document has become popular. It's called a Living Will. Unlike a regular will, which instructs your survivors what to do with your worldly assets once you settle down for that long dirt nap, a Living Will instructs others what to do should you become incapacitated and are no longer able to express your wishes. We think this is a great idea. And, so you don't have to go to a costly, ambulance-chasing lawyer to have this simple document drawn up, we've created one for you!

The Mad Living Will

To: MY FAMILY, MY PHYSICIAN, MY LAWYER, MY FRIENDS AND ALL OTHERS TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

I, _____, being of sound and disposing mind and memory, do hereby make, publish and declare this to be my LIVING WILL. If the time comes when I can no longer take part in decisions of my own future, let this statement stand as an expression of my wishes and directions while I am still of sound mind.

If I suddenly begin to take an unexplained turn for the worse, before any drastic or irreversible decisions are made, it is my desire that someone first check to make sure my attending physician is not Dr. Jack Kevorkian.

Should my attending medical personnel determine that an organ transplant is necessary, it is my expressed wish that, if at all possible, the baboon be of the same faith as myself.

If a kind soul takes it upon themselves to read aloud to me, it is my fervent wish, as it was during my non-incapacitated life, that they skip directly to the dirty parts of the book, and then read those passages over and over and over again.

It is my expressed want that no family member, friend or acquaintance shall enter my hospital room bearing one of those tacky "Get Well Soon" helium balloons. Likewise, any get well card sporting Garfield the Cat shall immediately be returned to its sender.

I wish my TV set off whenever Arsenio is on.

If at all possible, I prefer "Depends" over "Serenity."

I would prefer that my visitors leave their small children home if all the kids are going to do is stare at me and play with my toes.

At no time, even on the occasion of my birthday, do I yen to have a party hat placed on my head.

While I am not morally or ethically opposed to so-called "life sustaining equipment," I am vehemently opposed to the concept of hooking up such machinery to "The Clapper."

I agree to sponge baths only if given by a member of the opposite sex. Several members of the opposite sex at once is acceptable and, in fact, preferred. Ditto any therapeutic jacuzzis that may be prescribed.

It is my strong desire that in any and all elections that may take place, my absentee ballot be marked for the individual running opposite Quayle.

If in the unfortunate event, the time comes to donate my vital organs, it is my wish that in all donations a receipt be obtained, for tax purposes.

No Jello.

This statement is made after careful consideration and is in accordance with my strong convictions and beliefs. I want the wishes and directions here expressed carried out to the extent permitted by law.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and seal to this my MAD LIVING WILL on this the _____ day of _____ 19 _____.
